

Student-Oriented Fundraising

Since 1996, the annual golf tournament has been the primary fundraiser for the Surry Community College Foundation. This year, the May event held at the beautiful Cross Creek Country Club raised $58,000— enough to break the half-million dollar mark collectively over the last fourteen years. These funds go directly to students in need at Surry Community College.

Bobby Harold and Jerry Venable, co-chairs for the Tournament, along with students, faculty, staff, and community volunteers, worked tirelessly to ensure this year’s success. Budget reductions and investment declines continue to make the event critical in supporting a student population who realize the value of a college education but do not have the necessary resources. Surry Community College continues to be the source for hope, opportunity and jobs for this region.

The following Winners will have student scholarships presented in their team names for the 2010-11 and 2011-12 school years:

Individual Contributions

Please consider making a contribution to the Foundation, enabling the College to continue to provide financial support for students pursuing the dream of a college education. Scholarships are administered through the college Financial Aid office, and recipients are chosen on the basis of financial need and/or superior scholastic achievement. Institutional advancement projects are directed by the Foundation office. Funds are managed by the college Business office. An annual audit is conducted and semi-annual reports are made to the Foundation Board.

Gifts of Cash - Cash contributions are the most popular way of supporting the Foundation.

Memorial Gifts - Respecting the wishes of deceased loved ones, families often request that memorials be made to the Foundation. Unlike many other gestures of sympathy, a memorial gift to the Foundation serves others.

Gifts of Property and/or Real Estate with Provision for Lifetime Use - Property, real estate, or securities may be earmarked for the Foundation, with the donor retaining the privilege of using these resources for the duration of his or her life. In some instances, tax advantages may be enjoyed each year through the life of the agreement.

Stock, Bonds, or other Securities - For some donors, a contribution of securities which have increased in value may have a special tax advantage.

Gifts to Honor an Individual - Many individuals, clubs, and organizations contribute in recognition of a person they wish to honor. Scholarships may be established in the name of the honoree.

Gifts of Life Insurance - Life insurance policies or dividends paid on policies make practical gifts to the Foundation. A life insurance policy may be taken in the name of or transferred to the Foundation as beneficiary. Also, premiums paid for the policy are often tax deductible.

Donation by Will - Part or all of an individual’s estate may be left to the Foundation through a last will and testament. Both Federal and North Carolina law allow a charitable deduction in computing estate and inheritance tax liability.

Individual Retirement Accounts (IRA) - IRA accounts offer ordinary tax-free savings opportunities and is also a practical means of supporting the Foundation. The Foundation may be designated as a final beneficiary to receive any funds remaining after an individual or beneficiaries no longer need them. This plan can be created at the time an IRA is established, or in the case of an existing IRA, the Foundation can be added as beneficiary.

Wellness Pool Serves as a Beacon of Hope

In 1991, Surry Community College began offering Aquatic Exercise classes in Elkin, and in 2001 an aquatic facility was constructed by Hugh Chatham Memorial Hospital. Today, more than 150 persons participate in Fluid Movement, Regular, and High Energy classes at the hospital’s Wellness Pool.

The pool’s mission of enhancing wellness for the community has recently been captured in art. William Sanders, retired SCC art instructor, painted a lighthouse onto the mural of rolling hills already a part of the pool’s visual landscape. It serves as a Beacon of Hope to the community, enabling an improved quality of life for this region.
